FACIAL FUSION

Facial Fusion is a topically applied occlusive exfoliant that stimulates new cell growth and promotes skin clarity. The ingredients used in this product are designed to not penetrate the skin, but topically stimulate and exfoliate.

KEY INGREDIENTS

RICE STARCH

Rice bran oil is extracted from the outer hull of the rice grain. It is rich in anti-oxidants including, Tocopherol, Oryzanol and Tocotrienol. Rice bran oil has been used for centuries throughout Asia to treat dry skin, enhance skin health and maintain a youthful appearance. Rice starch has clinically proven (Archives of Dermatology and Venereology, 2002) soothing and softening benefits for dry and stressed skin, including eczema. By forming a fine protective film over the skin, rice starch counteracts dryness. In addition, rice starch contains natural proteins and amino acids that act as effective humectants and are essential building blocks for the skin.

Directions:

Rehydrate product with a small amount of water prior to application. This can be accomplished by applying product with moistened fingertips or dabbing a small amount of water onto product once application amount is on fingertips. Apply product in an upward and outward direction using a circular motion. Product can remain on the skin for 2-3 minutes to tone and firm the skin as it exfoliates.

Remove with generous amounts of tepid water. Use as cleansing step in the morning or at night.

ADZUKI BEAN (Adzuki)

Adzuki bean is incredibly versatile and can be used topically. Japanese skin care regimens have incorporated Adzuki into skin care treatments for centuries. It gently exfoliates skin leaving it soft and radiant. Used in traditional healing to help cleanse and purify the skin and body.
